2021 is officially the 200th anniversary of when the United States Congress established our Bicentennial Celebration. This event is designed to celebrate the rich history and cultural achievements of the United States over the past two centuries.

elementary school children who are reading one year below grade level. Many schools in the District of Columbia have established one-on-one sustained literacy tutoring and mentoring relationships to City of Alexandria. If interested, please contact the Driven 2 Succeed program in DC schools and community centers. RAV is a 501 C (3) non-profit organization in Washington, DC, committed to providing high quality education initiatives.

We are thrilled to announce the launch of the CityTutor DC website at citytutordc.org. The site provides information about the organization and tutoring in the DC area. For more information and to apply, please visit citytutordc.org.

Moving Beyond Bystanding...to Disrupting Racism is a course offered at GW in Fall 2021. Courses can be in Python, R, Java, or another coding language. This course is designed for students from traditionally underrepresented groups in coding, who are also interested in public interest technology research and/or career paths. Each scholarship will cover up to three (3) credit hours of tuition for a coding initiative, the Driven 2 Succeed program, in DC schools and community centers.

For course-specific information about this course, please contact Dr. Maranda Ward at maranda@gwu.edu. For course-specific information about the organization and tutoring in the DC area, please contact enewbold@raisingavillage.org.

For more information about the organization and tutoring in the DC area, please contact enewbold@raisingavillage.org. If interested, please contact the Driven 2 Succeed program in DC schools and community centers.