

HONEY W. NASHMAN CENTER FOR CIVIC ENGAGEMENT AND PUBLIC SERVICE

“You can be the lead in your own life.” - Kerry Washington

Meet Our 2022 GWUpstart Challenge Winners!

We had an amazing GWUpstart Challenge where participants got to listen to our 2022 winners' keynote speeches, connected with people who are transforming our communities for good, and learned about how the Honey W. Nashman Center can support them in making change.

"While change is often difficult, a changemaker is someone who is unafraid of change, bold enough to see things differently, and creative enough to execute things differently. This is the essence of who I am. I have always had the audacity to give myself permission to tackle a social issue and to not give up until there's a resolution that directly addresses the problem and that creates a difference"

- Brianna Taylor

"I believe I'm a change maker because everything I have done, am doing, and plan to do is geared towards forging a better society for those around me. I have worked with local elected leaders and have campaigned for progressive candidates and causes that I thought truly had the opportunity to create a better world via policy."

- Charles Aborisade
